TFPG Report from the Chair

There are several exciting developments to you tell you about this year.

Diana Statue

Foremost in developments is the return of the statue of the Roman Goddess Diana to the Gardens! Diana quietly returned to her place in Gardens in early December 2020, and come spring, Diana will be painted and ready for another 130+ years of service. Susan Feader, the artist who is restoring the statues, is now working on Ceres, and you can expect to see Ceres back, complete with arms, later this year. Our project to restore all the statues is funded by The Friends of the Public Gardens using the remaining money donated by the public to the 2010 Victoria Jubilee Campaign and Jarvis Bequest funds.

Research Projects

When The Friends were unable to open our Horticultural (Hort) Hall desk last summer due to HRM's Covid-19 policy, we decided to have our Canada Summer Job employees pivot to work on some research projects. Working remotely, Michael Nearing researched the histories of people buried in the Camp Hill Cemetery. From that, he created a wonderful tour and a brochure that will be available in Hort Hall and on our website. Lauren Siteman spent her time creating a searchable database that documents current and past Memorials. Lauren and Board member George Hearn also created a map to help people locate memorials currently in the Gardens.

Wanting to continue employing young people during these difficult times, the Board sought out additional Canada Summer Job funding in the fall. We were able to rehire Michael Nearing, to work on children-related activities and a family newsletter to be distributed over the summer months. We also hired an audio producer, Deirdre Morrison, to create an Audio tour of the Camp Hill Cemetery that expands on the brochure tour designed earlier. Creating Audio tours of the Gardens has been a long-standing dream of many of the past Boards.

Having achieved this Audio tour success in early February, the Board decided to dip into our savings to extend our employees' time for another two months. During that time they worked on another brochure and audio tour, focusing on the Royal Visits and Connections to the Gardens. The idea for this tour was inspired by research completed by the 2019 Ad Hoc Committee, Royals in the Gardens, chaired by John Yogis. Dedicated volunteers, Harry Popowich, Janet Brush and Judith Cabrita, provided their time to supervise, administer and mentor our employees. Thanks to all.

Covid-safe Activities

Unable to hold our normal series of events this year, our creative Events Chair, Milena Khazanavicius came up with some delightful, socially distanced alternatives such TFPG as Live Diana statues' weekly appearances courtesy of The Friends and the Spring Garden Area Business Association. Challenged to come up with a virtual alternative to replace our end-of-season get together in Hort Hall, Milena decided on a series of entertainments, including a Victorian Advent Calendar (special acknowledgement to Milena, Barbara Bickle and their many contributors) and a Sing-Along organized by Board member and Neptune employee Laura Caswell. Thanks to all the volunteers who helped out. We hope these brought you much joy.

Administrative Achievements

In the background, The Friends have achieved two major accomplishments; our accounting system has been converted to the accrual method under the guidance of our Treasurer, Janet Brush; Joan Dawson led a dedicated archival team who spent many hours amassing and organizing our records. Congratulations and much appreciation for solving these two long-standing issues. Finally, we would like to thank Alan Ruffman for the many years he provided storage space for our cache of Halifax Public Gardens books.

We want to acknowledge several long-serving volunteers who have left the Board after contributing significantly to our success.

Barbara Bickle, currently our organization's Secretary, has for many years used her graphic design skills to create beautiful posters, cards, calendars, newsletters and a myriad of other items to support our activities. She has also worked tirelessly to manage and grow our website and apply her design skills to make it so attractive. Barbara has also served for an extended period as the Board Vice-Chair, and worked on many committees: Archives, Bursary, Communications, Events and provided outstanding photography. The Board would like to thank Barbara for the many hours of her time she has donated to The Friends, and we are very grateful that she has offered to continue to manage our website.

Karen Guenther has been our Volunteer Coordinator since its inception and served in many roles including as Membership Chair. Karen developed our public outreach activities in Hort Hall, training many volunteers to service our Friends' Desk and to give guided tours. Karen is our most knowledgeable tour guides and has often donated her time for special tour requests. We thank Karen for all her contributions and we hope she will continue to provide the occasional tour in the Gardens.

Frank Streicher has been involved in developing our social media presence as our technical guru in all things digital and has used his graphic design skills to create numerous fine displays for The Friends. Frank has always lent a willing hand to assist with countless activities. We appreciate his steadfast commitment!

We thank Janet Murray for her leadership on behalf of the Suellen Murray Educational Bursary. And to John Yogis, for his valuable research and connections to the The Royals. Both also provided sage and helpful advice as Board members, and we appreciate their contributions.

The Friends of the Public Gardens are also delighted to announce that Judith Cabrita, a long-time member and steadfast supporter of the Halifax Public Gardens is receiving a Flora Award. A tribute to Judith is included in this AGM report.

We acknowledge Heidi Boutilier, HRM's Supervisor, Horticulture West, who will be retiring this year. We greatly value Heidi's many years of service managing the Gardens and her ongoing guidance. On behalf of The Friends of the Public Gardens, we wish her all the best as she begins her sailing adventures. We will miss you.

Archives Committee

Members: Barbara Bickle, Judith Cabrita, Joan Dawson

Purpose/Role

To ensure an accessible, permanent, accurate and historical record of the activities, achievements and works of The Friends of the Public Gardens (TFPG).

Responsibilities

Sort, organize, categorize and preserve all materials: paper, digital and artifacts . concerning TFPG.

Activities

Sorting of documents continued, and some physical artifacts accessioned. In March 2021, the Committee completed sorting and filing all paper materials and artifacts alphabetically; listed the contents; numbered the banker boxes, each with a contents file. A master file has been retained.

Successes

In 2018, a committee was struck to establish an the TFPG Archive. Over the subsequent years to March 2021, they met from September to June on most Wednesday mornings at the home of Joan Dawson, who graciously stored the materials as they completed the task. All the paper materials and artifacts are now recorded, preserved and ready for storage.

Challenges

The committee took a necessary hiatus from March 2020 to January 2021 due to protocols and restrictions of the Covid-19 pandemic. In addition, there are many digital records on private computers to be organized in like manner. The committee will need to establish a system to manage these records in an accessible format and collect other relevant material for storage.

Bursary Committee

2020 -21 was a challenging year for everyone, and the bursary for Suellen Murray, supported by her friends and family, was no exception. We were unsure as to where the pandemic Covid-19 would take us, and some of the entrants were looking at projects which were unsuitable for an "iffy" year.

The bursary was awarded to Tracy Jessen, a long-time gardener at the Halifax Public Gardens, and her project was "History of the Carpet Beds." The carpet beds, a Victorian element, have always been a highlight of the Gardens. Tracy has worked diligently on the project, which we hope will be an interesting addition to our web page, and perhaps make an excellent Jarvis Lecture at some time in the future. A PowerPoint presentation will be included.

The Bursary Committee has taken a hiatus as the lockdown continues.

Communications Committee

Social Media

The Halifax Public Gardens has developed a social media presence by using three platforms: Instagram, Twitter, and Facebook. Throughout 2020, our online reach has steadily increased. On Instagram, our followers have increased from 274 to 599. On Twitter, our followers have increased from 2,597 to 2,717, and on Facebook, our followers have increased from 11,000 to 11,677.

2020 has seen a greater shift towards digital communication, making social media more important than ever. The Friends of the Halifax Public Gardens have continued to promote the Gardens and interact with visitors by posting photos, events, and contests on each of our social media platforms. In an age of social distancing, these platforms have allowed the Friends of the Public Gardens to maintain communication with our followers and improve our online presence.

Throughout the past year, we have promoted several contests, including the Pose as Diana Contest and the Holiday Contest. The Pose as Diana Contest encouraged visitors in the Gardens to strike a pose as the goddess Diana and post their photos using the hashtag "Poseas Diana". The Holiday Contest tested participants on their knowledge of the Public Gardens. Both of these contests attracted significant attention and resulted in an increased number of followers and post engagements.

In December, board members Milena Khazanavicius and Barbara Bickle developed a digital Victorian history advent calendar that featured daily posts on Instagram, Twitter, and Facebook. Milena was consulted to discuss accessible social media content. We have been including descriptive captions or alt text with each image for the blind and partially sighted.

It should also be noted that the Friends maintain a SoundCloud account, which allows for the promotion of our newly created audio tours. Since March of 2021, our first audio tour, the Camp Hill Cemetery audio tour, has received 166 listens. This number should increase with the development of our upcoming audio tours.

Additional:

TFPG Website

The website can be found at halifaxpublicgardens.ca. There are a couple of new features on the website, listed below:

The Wild Bird Project 2018 - 2020

This project, conducted by Joan Harbison and Gisèle d'Entremont, documented 75 species of birds in the Halifax Public Gardens. Joan and Gisèle have created a gallery of bird photographs taken in The Gardens and a report which includes details on what time of year to expect to see the birds. To view the page go to halifaxpublicgardens.ca, and click on the menu tab "About."

Audio Tours

The Friends of the Public Gardens is creating a library of audio tours highlighting different aspects of the Halifax Public Gardens and the Camp Hill Cemetery. The first of this series, An Historical Walk in the Camp Hill Cemetery, is available on our website, available to download to your phone or to listen to at home. To access the audio tours, visit our website halifaxpublicgardens.ca, click "Plan."

Newsletters

We introduced a new program during the past year, publishing a series of short newsletters, each featuring a specific aspect of the Halifax Public Gardens and Camp Hill Cemetery. We plan to continue these features again this year during the off-season. Visit the home page, click on the menu tab "About."

We are introducing a Family Newsletter for the summer months, more oriented towards children, although we hope that grandparents and parents will find them interesting too! These newsletters about The Gardens are created by MichaelNearing and contain lots of original drawings and interesting facts about The Gardens and games for children.

Events Committee

The Friends only held small socially distanced events due to Covid-19 restrictions.

#Pose As Diana contest:

The event was held from July to August 2020, as our goddess Diana statue was being completely restored by a sculptor. This social media and photo contest involved individuals entering the Public Gardens and posing as our "missing Goddess". As judged by a panel of volunteers, the best poses, were awarded one of four $30 local book store gift certificates. The local bookstores were: Bookmark on Spring Garden Road and Carrefour Atlantique Emporium in Historic Properties.

Contest entries were submitted to Instagram, Facebook and Twitter accounts for TFPG. We had more than 55 entries from all ages and individuals, and 4 winners were picked.

Although difficult to gauge public response to the attractions, an email from one of the Pose-As-Diana winners indicates the effect we hoped would happen, did happen for her. She wrote:

"Thank you for your email! We had so much fun preparing for the photo and also enjoyed walking through the park. These really are peculiar times, like you said, and this was a lovely thing to plan and think about. Plus, I finally learned how to post some thing on Instagram! Lol"

The event committee successfully attracted some excellent media coverage about the events and TFPG, including CBC Evening News, and interviews on CBC and 95.7 radio stations. There was also favourable coverage in the print media.

Victorian History Advent Calendar

This was our second event, held from December 1 to 25 for all members and the general public, and was exclusively online. Each day of December on our Facebook, social media accounts, and web site, a new piece of Victorian history was revealed for viewers to enjoy and learn from; Christmas recipes, historical men and women, Christmas decorations to make yourself, and stories from the Victorian era, are just a few examples of the delightful entries. It was a great success with many compliments and shares via social media

Victorian History Trivia Contest

It was our last event directly relating to the Public Gardens. Only paid members were eligible to enter the 7-questions trivia contest. Two winners were chosen, and each received a $50 gift card to a shop of their choice.

This contest brought new memberships and encouraged many existing members to renew their memberships as well. None of these events would have succeeded without a mighty volunteer group that I am eternally grateful for.

Volunteer Committee

In 2020, the Covid-19 Virus arrival in Halifax altered the year's plans for many interactive public organizations.

Horticultural Hall was closed for part of the 2020 season to all but working HRM Staff Gardeners to provide them with a protective space for socially distanced meetings, lunch and breaks. Uncommon Grounds refreshment counter was also initially closed until a simple one-way traffic pattern for carry-out service was established. No seating was allowed inside and only limited seating on the patio deck.

With similar considerations, Volunteer Daily Hosting of The Friends' Membership Desk was suspended.

Board Members willing to be available on-site to represent The Friends and answer simple questions about Friends Membership (were available online) and orientation within The Gardens (i.e. "Is the Diana Statue nearby?" "where is the bathroom?" "How do I get to the Citadel?" "which direction is the Waterfront"?) were encouraged to wear the new Volunteer badges (designed by Friends Member Frank Streicher) to identify themselves as Volunteers for The Friends of the Public Gardens.

Friends Volunteers stepped in when possible to assist with The Friends alternative Events and Activities while complying with NS Health recommendations and recommendations re Covid-19. To prevent virus spread and encourage social distancing, a note was on the homepage of www.halifaxpublicgardens.ca.

Volunteer Hosted Tours of The Gardens were also suspended with limited special exceptions. Tauck Tours, successfully conducted in 2019 as a collaboration of Tauck Tours and The Friends, who coordinated a Friends' Volunteer and an HRM Gardener to conduct each tour, were canceled for 2020, with hopes to renew in a future year.

Canada Summer Jobs employees took on particular projects and worked independently of Horticultural Hall under Janet Brush, Judith Cabrita and Harry Popowich.

At the time of this report, the continuing prevalence of the Covid-19 Virus in 2021 supports the Board's consensus that Hort Hall is unlikely to open for 2021 before July.

Audio Tours and Brochures

Beginning in Summer 2020, collaborative efforts have been underway between the Friends of the Public Gardens and recent graduates Michael Nearing and Deirdre Morrison to create a series of historical audio tours centred on the Halifax Public Gardens and the Camp Hill Cemetery. Each audio tour is accompanied by a companion brochure, which features a map of the tour for easier navigation, detailed illustrations and information, and a QR code which can be scanned via phone camera to access its respective audio tour online. Each audio tour and map can also be accessed from the Halifax Public Gardens website.

Michael graduated from NSCAD University in 2020, studying illustration and art history. Last June, he undertook research of Camp Hill Cemetery, home to many notable Nova Scotians, including Viola Desmond, Joseph Howe, and Abbie Lane, with the intent of building a foundation of information to create a tour of the cemetery. Following this, Deirdre, an audio producer with a background in sound design and production, was hired to adapt the research into an audio tour of the site, and Michael was tasked with writing and illustrating a brochure to accompany the tour.

Also consulted extensively on this project was Milena Khazanavicius, an advocate for the blind and partially sighted, who is blind herself. Milena was consulted to ensure audio tours provided clear directions and detailed physical descriptions for each tour stop. Deirdre and Milena also discussed the development of high-contrast braille signage to increase the accessibility of the audio tours.

This original project was a great success and has inspired a series of tours to follow, the next of which – a tour of Royal visits and connections to the Halifax Public Gardens – being near to completion. This series will be expanded further over the Summer of 2021, and eventually, will exist as a digital library of high quality, informative audio tours that can be taken at a time of your choosing and your own pace. These tours will educate listeners on the history and horticulture associated with the Halifax Public Gardens and Camp Hill Cemetery, increase awareness and enthusiasm around these historical sites, and allow enjoying the outdoors during the warmer weather.

Summer Interns

Canada Jobs Summer Interns Project:

Our summer employees, Michael Nearing and Lauren Siteman completed their 14-week placement under the federal Canada Summer Jobs programme. Copies of their very detailed reports are on our Google docs site. Thanks to Harry Popowich, Janet Brush, Judith Cabrita, Bill Colpitts, Milena Khazanavicius, George Hearn and Pam Sweet for their support of our summer employees. Sorry if I missed anyone that helped out.

Lauren Siteman has produced a report documenting the memorials featured over the past 150+ years in the Public Gardens. She has documented over 230 memorials, of which 98 are still present in the Gardens. Along with the report and a searchable spreadsheet, Lauren and George Hearn worked on a map to locate the existing memorials.

Michael Nearing has created a comprehensive database of personal histories for notable people buried in the Camp Hill Cemetery. It makes for some fascinating reading! Michael has created a walking tour of the cemetery, about an hour in duration, that focused on ten personal stories highlighting significant parts of Nova Scotia's history. He has created talking points and background for training our volunteer guides. He also has designed a brochure for people that want to do the tour on their own.

Finance Committee Report

Our fiscal year began on March 1, 2020, so the entire year was affected by the pandemic lockdown. Horticultural Hall was closed, and income was substantially reduced. There were no tours, no cruise ship traffic, and very few local visitors.

We did obtain a grant from Canada Summer Jobs, which was used to start a library of audio and self-guided walking tours. This work will continue in 2021-22 with the help of additional grants.

Our biggest expenditure was the restoration of the Diana statue to her place in front of the Bandstand. It was paid for out of the Victoria Jubilee Trust. The two other statues, Flora and Ceres, should be restored this fiscal year.

This year, an accounting firm was engaged in implementing changes appropriate to a charitable organization, and to set up Quick Books for easier administration of restricted funds and investments. If you look at the Financial Statements, the most significant change is the separation of restricted funds such as the Jarvis Trust from the general income and expenses, and applying accrual accounting.

Any questions about the Financial Statements can be directed to the general email address: infohalifaxpublicgardens@gmail.com.
